Annual Report 2016-2017

BREAKTHROUGH SCHOOLS
Free. Public. Open to All.
Dear Breakthrough Community,

Breakthrough Schools exists to operate top-notch schools delivering an extraordinary education to students in historically underserved Cleveland neighborhoods. We know we are doing it!

We are so happy to share that Stanford University’s Center for Research on Educational Outcomes- CREDO for short-studied about 300 public charter school operators in 24 states and found that Breakthrough is #1 for student learning in Ohio! Compared to paired students attending local District schools, our students learned so much more it is like they are getting 148 extra days of instruction in math and 120 extra days in reading! That is great evidence that our schools are fulfilling the promise we make to Cleveland families when they choose to attend our schools.

We were also very pleased that our middle school graduates were accepted to many of the area’s best high schools. We’re so committed to guiding our 8th graders to select high-quality college prep high schools that we provide High School Transition coordinators at each middle school. In addition, we conduct a high school fair each Fall that attracts thirty of the region’s best high schools. Collectively, our eighth graders earned $1.4 million in scholarships to prestigious private high schools last year, proof of the region’s confidence in the academic foundation provided by Breakthrough.

Teaching excellence is the key reason for Breakthrough’s results. We invest significantly to make sure that our dedicated teachers are always developing and refining their skills. All three school models invest in multiple coaching positions within each school aimed at curriculum and instruction, as well as classroom practice. We also adopted new technologies this year that facilitate observation and feedback as well as real time coaching of teachers in action in their classrooms. Our commitment also included training about 40% of our teachers on the use of new instructional technologies, and we sent staff members to outside conferences and training sessions specific to their roles.

Each school model can boast some exciting developments:

Our Preps Model adopted national curriculum in English Language Arts (ELA) and Math, allowing teachers to focus on modifying and delivering great lessons instead of writing them every night.

Our Citizens Model led the network in introducing coding and Lego robotics offerings, something we are pursuing aggressively network-wide.

Our Citizens Leadership Model, an Expeditionary Learning (EL) model, sent every single teacher to the national EL conference, then followed it with a professional development day to discover together how to implement best practices.

Breakthrough Schools is proud of these accomplishments and was happy to welcome Village Prep Willard to our network of schools. The year also involved planning for two new middle schools opened in 2017-2018, part of our charge to expand access to quality education in Cleveland.

ALL RESULTS DATA PROVIDED BY STANFORD UNIVERSITY CREDO STUDY 2017
Our friends and supporters continue to astound us with their incredible generosity and passion for Breakthrough Schools. The 2016-2017 school year was chock-full of students striving, teachers inventing, and the Breakthrough network planning for the growth of our high-performing schools. Because we do not receive full funding from public sources, we count on philanthropy to operate our free schools and- wow!- did you come through. We thank you!

The nearly 3,000 students enrolled in our schools last year enjoyed mind-boggling growth, shored up by your monetary gifts, in-kind contributions, and volunteer efforts. The aforementioned CREDO study says it all! Our students are reaping the rewards of phenomenal progress. In addition to enrolling in Cleveland’s best public high schools, our most recent eighth graders earned a combined $1.4 million in scholarships to independent and parochial high schools where they will embark on their path to higher education.

As all of this success makes clear, your $7 million worth of investments in Breakthrough last year were really investments in students getting the early foundation to carry them through life. Further in this report, we recognize your generous donations in the July 1, 2016 to June 30, 2017 fiscal year, and we are extremely grateful! If you do not see your name, please let me know right away, and we sincerely apologize for the unintentional oversight.

We now have eleven schools to support in 2017-2018, and we want to keep going until we have 5,000 seats available for children ready and eager to learn as Breakthrough scholars. Please consider visiting a school, attending an event, and renewing your support this year. You are a big part of the reason we continue to achieve remarkable results!

Breakthrough is Ohio’s best network, study says

CREDO study results

Here’s how charters operate with schools in Ohio scored in the latest study by Stanford’s Center for Research on Educational Outcomes (CREDO). For each operator, CREDO calculated how much more students learned compared to those in traditional public schools.

The difference is expressed as days of learning above or below what other students learn. If a school is listed as 120 days, CREDO estimates that students there learned about two-thirds more than other students did in a typical 180-day school year. A minus 60 means students learned a third less.

Comparing results by types of operators

CREDO has released multiple studies of charter school performance over the years that compare test scores of charter students to statewide and national norms. The method has critics, but also allows some comparison of how charter schools do with their often poor and frequently low-scoring students relative to schools they leave behind.

The latest study, which looked at different academic results for different types of charter school operators, shows that those that run just one school, those that run several schools (like Breakthrough and Constellation), or those run by outside vendors who are paid to run the schools, as well as many of Ohio’s online schools.

CREDO found that:

- Charter schools, as a whole, score better nationally than traditional public schools, for the 85 percent of charter schools nationwide included in the study.
- Charter operators in the study performed better than districts by six days of learning, just as high as the national average.
- In reading, for-profit charter operators scored better than districts by 33 days of learning.
- CREDO reports that for-profit operators are the cause of the gap between non-profit and for-profit operators.

“Breakthrough had students score so far ahead of traditional district schools in math that it was as if they had taken classes for an extra 148 days, or an extra 80 percent of a school year, CREDO reports.”
Our graduates earned $1.4M in scholarships to top high schools for the 2017-18 school year.
Our elementary and middle school scholars came together for an inspiring night at our first network-wide Black History Month Community Event.
The success of Breakthrough Schools would not be possible without the support of our community. Friends of Breakthrough Schools is humbled by the donors, advocates, and volunteers who committed to our mission this year.

With you, we were able to meet our fundraising goals, sell out signature events, complete beautification projects at our schools and, most importantly, connect students with community members and community institutions.

The Friends of Breakthrough Board is dedicated to doing whatever it takes to drive new friends and supporters to Breakthrough, and continue to build relationships with our valued donors. Board members filled tables at the BASH, organized foursomes to Swing for the Stars, and brought their friends and colleagues to school dedications and tours. They were exceptionally active in stewardship this year and made countless phone calls to let donors know how much their gifts mean.

The Board also shepherded Breakthrough through capital initiatives related to growth and expansion plans. Particularly helpful was Board member assistance in procuring New Market Tax Credits, ultimately easing the costs of opening new schools. For the upcoming year, the Friends of Breakthrough Board made diversity a priority, as reflected in nominations and new appointments for fiscal year 2018. Our board going forward is our most diverse ever, and we look forward to tapping into new communities and social networks that can fortify our mission for years to come.

William Koehler
Board Chair, Friends of Breakthrough
The Breakthrough Schools Board of Directors was proud to receive confirmation that Breakthrough is Ohio’s #1 public charter school network! That was the finding of a study conducted by Stanford University’s CREDO, or the Center for Research on Education Outcomes.

The outstanding results are testament to the hard work and dedication evident inside every Breakthrough school, as well as constant striving at the leadership level to support teachers, embolden leaders, and enhance curriculum. Nearly 3,000 Cleveland-area students attended our schools in 2016-2017 and experienced the benefits of high-quality, high-expectation schools.

Our long term goal is to bring a Breakthrough school to more Cleveland neighborhoods in need of high-quality seats, and the 2016-2017 school year brought us closer to that goal. We opened Village Prep Willard to grades K-1. Located in the Cudell neighborhood on the west side, the school expands our presence in the city.

We also spent the year planning to open two new schools in the 2017-2018 school year. E Prep Willard will be established, first adding grades 5 and 6, as the middle school complement to Village Prep Willard. Together, the schools will grow each year until the campus serves grades K-8. Citizens Leadership Academy East, first opening to serve grade 6, does the same on the east side, eventually growing to provide a full K-8 campus with Citizens Academy East.

The year ahead will take stock and build on all of the positive developments of 2016-2017 as we refresh our strategic plan to guide us through the next few years. It has been my privilege to serve as the Board Chair for the last three years. I’d like to take this opportunity to wish Paul Harris every success as the new Board Chair.
Fundraising makes up the shortfall between the per pupil public funding we receive and the actual cost of operating high-quality schools.

During the 2016-2017 fiscal year, we raised $7 million to support existing Breakthrough schools, expand the network, and build a sustainability fund for the future.

We thank you for your part in helping us:

> Secure more than 1,000 donors who gave generous financial contributions.

> Coordinate over 350 volunteers eager to help beautify schools, mentor students, and assist in governance and operations.

> Hold 81 cultivation events to acquaint new friends and old to our mission and to our schools.

> Advocate for increased public support for high-quality public schools.

> Open the brand new Village Preparatory Willard school in the Cudell neighborhood, expanding our footprint on the west side of Cleveland.

> Renovate and add square footage at existing campus locations to make room for E Prep Willard and Citizens Leadership Academy East, two brand new middle schools opened in 2017-2018.

> Begin to renovate the Charles Eliot school building, currently housing a Cleveland Metropolitan School District school, where Citizens Academy Southeast will take up residence in the 2018-2019 school year.

Thank you all so much.
Past advocacy wins are still paying off!
We led the effort to create a $25 million facilities fund in the last biennial budget for high-quality public charter school facilities.

We won $6.5 million of that through a competitive grant process for three of our schools. There is $8 million left of that original $25 million set-aside, and we will likely apply during the second round for facilities grants to be issued in 2018!

It’s not all good news. We never hesitate to remind our friends in Columbus that students win when the state of Ohio funds high-quality public charter schools. The state’s revenue shortfall resulted in no increases in education spending in the current budget, but we are not giving up! We will not stop until there is a commitment to more equitable funding for high-quality public charter schools.

We are proud to be part of a High-Quality Coalition. Breakthrough is a member of a high quality public charter coalition in Ohio and, with other schools nationwide, we fought this year to maintain Charter School Program grants from the U.S. Department of Education. These grants exist to give disadvantaged students access to quality community schools in their own neighborhoods. Breakthrough received one of these transformational grants in 2011, and is dedicated to protecting this vital resource for kids in need.

Columbus came to us. Breakthrough travels often to Columbus but, sometimes, Columbus comes to us. During the course of the year, we were pleased to welcome Ohio state Senators and Representatives as well as two gubernatorial candidates and D.C. Congressional offices to our schools to witness our impact. Each elected official left impressed by the solid work of our teachers and school leaders.

“This year, Columbus came to us.”
John Zitzner
GUESTS NOT BASHFUL IN SUPPORTING BREAKTHROUGH

The 6th annual Breakthrough BASH (January 2017) was another strong show of support for Breakthrough Schools! Our very own Citizens Leadership Academy alum, Teon Smith ’15, led about 1,000 attendees through a student-focused dinner program highlighting how a Breakthrough education changes lives! The event, chaired by Diane Singer and Julie Cristal, raised more than $685,000 for our growing network of schools. The high-octane paddle raise alone brought in enough funds to renovate twelve new classrooms! Thanks to presenting sponsor Key Bank and honoree Jones Day for exemplifying how community support bolsters our commitment to delivering high-quality education in Cleveland!

PUBLIC SCHOOLS TEACH EACH OTHER

Mike Feinberg, co-founder of the highly regarded KIPP public school network, keynoted our second annual Blue Plate Special at Windows on the River in August 2016. Chaired by Bridget Moreno, the host committee sold out the 400-seat luncheon where Stanley Jordan, E Prep ’12, detailed how school staff encouraged him to stay enrolled when he was on the verge of giving up. Then, Mr. Feinberg shared the “secret sauce” of a great school: outstanding teachers like Stanley’s and strong relationships between school leaders, teachers, and families. School choice, he explained, can elevate the public schools, and he admires how Cleveland considers public charter schools an important part of the city’s public education system.

NOT JUST ANOTHER DAY ON THE GREEN

About a hundred supporters teed up for Breakthrough Schools at the 6th annual Swing for the Stars Golf Outing held on July 18, 2016 at Mayfield Sand Ridge Club. Baker Hostetler and Wells Fargo sponsored the day of golf that raised nearly $50,000 to benefit students like Victor DeAnda and Deon Billups. The two Breakthrough alums joined us for lunch to describe their student experiences. Neil Whitford, Sean Ward, Jim Marra, and Kevin Murphy took the top prize for E Prep Cliffs after a day enjoyed by all!

CELEBRATING BLACK HISTORY AS A NETWORK OF SCHOOLS

Fifty scholars from five Breakthrough schools came together in January for the first ever Black History Month Showcase! The scholars from varying grades delighted parents, friends, and staff with dances, songs, and poetry honoring the African and African-American experience. It is seldom that our scholars get to join together across schools, much less to celebrate this part of our national heritage. What an inspiration to see our scholars interpret the meaning of Black History through the arts!
MORE THAN 3,700 HOURS

Volunteers dedicated over 3,700 hours to Breakthrough Schools during the year, assisting with many projects that we would never have been able to accomplish without them! Typically, volunteers help in three areas: They beautify our schools in the ways the research says helps students learn better. They mentor our students as they apply to selective high schools. And, they keep us on course by serving on our boards, working in our office, or tutoring our students.

ARBOR DAY ANNOUNCEMENT AT CITIZENS ACADEMY

Citizens Academy entered Cleveland’s eco-history as the place where Mayor Jackson announced plans to reforest the city! Right after the announcement, made on Arbor Day, twenty-five 5th grade students joined members of the Cleveland Tree Coalition, Western Reserve Land Conservancy, and Holden Forests & Garden in picking up their shovels and planting 15 new trees on campus!

KEY BANK BEAUTIFIES THE GROUNDS AT WILLARD

Village Prep Willard gained in curb appeal thanks to a Done In A Day group from Key Bank. About 30 Key Bank employees came to school to dig out flower beds, plant flowers and shrubs, and then mulch. Afterwards, they met with scholars to talk about the importance of saving, something that will come much easier now that each scholar left with a personal piggy bank courtesy of the Key Bank team!

JONES DAY NEVER QUITS

Jones Day is tireless in its support of Breakthrough Schools, with two partners on the Friends of Breakthrough board and such a magnitude of pro bono services that we had to recognize and honor at the BASH. Always eager to lend a hand, 18 Jones Day employees- including our two board members- spent a Saturday in June painting the Woodland Hills gym. They also cleaned and inventoried student Chromebooks in preparation for the next school year.
$1.4 MILLION IN SCHOLARSHIPS

Our Breakthrough schools end at eighth grade, but we aspire to see all of our students through to success in college and life beyond. Of course, this starts with high school, and we are pleased to report that Breakthrough eighth graders won a combined $1.4 million in scholarship money to attend prestigious independent and parochial schools including Benedictine High School, Cleveland Central Catholic, Gilmour, Hawken, Laurel School, St. Edward High School, St. Ignatius High School, St. Martin De Porres, University School, and Western Reserve Academy. What an accomplishment!

21ST CENTURY COURSEWORK

Cleveland is twelfth on the list of fastest growing “Tech Towns,” according to a recent article by ZipRecruiter, and Breakthrough is helping Cleveland kids get the tech background they need for the jobs that will be waiting when they join the workforce. During the school year, we added more coding and Lego Robotics offerings across the schools; about 30% of students got the chance to build robots and write code in 2016-2017. We will continue adding STEM offerings such as coding and robotics as we increase internal capacity to support them!

STRENGTHENING THE BREAKTHROUGH FAMILY

Schools are most successful when they nurture strong relationships between families, students, and school staff. We have long enjoyed committed families but began working to strengthen ties even more. During the year, we planned a series of social events, carnivals, family meals, and service days to get parents talking to each other and talking to staff. We are sure this will translate into resource sharing and collaborations that benefit students and schools alike.

NEW SCHOOLS JOIN OHIO’S BEST CHARTER SCHOOL NETWORK

Stanford University’s Center for Research on Education Outcomes (CREDO) found that Breakthrough is Ohio’s best public charter school network, a testament to the hard work of our school leaders, teachers, students, and families! We are so glad to bring two new Breakthrough schools to Cleveland in the 2017-2018 school year. Citizens Leadership Academy East opened to grade 6 and E Prep Willard to grades 5 and 6, each joining existing Breakthrough elementary schools to ultimately provide the full K-8 continuum in neighborhoods in need of quality schools!

Fiscal Year 2017 Audited Financials
Since the inception of Breakthrough Schools, so many of our generous donors have included our schools in their estate plans, and we are excited to announce that we have formalized a legacy giving program. The Semper Virens Legacy Society recognizes individuals who have made a legacy commitment to Breakthrough Schools. This giving society is also being created in concert with the recent formation of the Friends of Breakthrough Schools Legacy Fund of the Cleveland Foundation.

Founding members to the society who made a previous commitment include William and Mary Conway, Walter and Jean Kalberer, Jack Sherwin, William and Nancy Seelbach, and John and Susan Turben. A number of Friends of Breakthrough board members will be adding their names as members this year. A formal reception will be held in the spring of 2018 to recognize all individuals who have taken this important step for the future.

The establishment of the fund solidifies our partnership with our donors, as well as with the Cleveland Foundation. Legacy gift commitments strengthen the fund corpus, and growth of the fund will build out our investment portfolio to help ensure the long term financial sustainability of our network. Through this partnership, Friends of Breakthrough gains access to the large investment pools of the Cleveland Foundation, as well as their years of experience and proven track record of success in this arena.

Semper Virens is Latin for ‘evergreen’ and we feel this is so fitting for the support these generous people have provided for current and future students in Cleveland. Thank you to our Semper Virens Legacy Society founding members. These gifts are making a difference today by allowing us to plan for Breakthrough’s greatest needs tomorrow and well into the future.

If you are interested in learning more about legacy giving and tax deductible planned gifts, please contact Susan Ertle at sertle@breakthroughschools.org.
