

Dear Breakthrough Families,

In December of 2020, the Breakthrough Public School Board, upon current CEO Alan Rosskamm's request, embarked on the process of seeking a successor to serve as the next CEO for our network of schools. After a robust selection process, we engaged Korn Ferry as our search partner for the work and formed a diverse and inclusive CEO Search Task Force to drive the early rounds of the process.

The Task Force consisted of teacher, principal, academic leadership, parent, alumnus, and board representation. This incredible group ensured we had a wide variety of perspectives and experiences to frame the development of the job description, as well as our search and interview process. The primary job of this Task Force has now ended, with the recommendation to move forward a set of compelling candidates to a final round in August.

During this next phase of the process, the entire Board will have the opportunity to meet the finalists, as will representatives of all key stakeholder groups, including Breakthrough's Network Leadership Team, academic and operations staff, principals, teachers, alumni, families and external partners, and friends. If you are interested in being considered to participate on one of our family panels during this phase of the search, please click here.

If you have any questions about the search activities, please feel free to contact us at CEOsearch@bcs.bt.school.
